The Lord's prayer

Matthew 6:9-13

Our Father who is in Heaven,
 Hallowed be your Name
 Your Kingdom come, your will be done, on earth as it is in Heaven.
 Give us this day our daily bread.
 And forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those that trespass against us.
 And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.
 For yours is the kingdom, the power and the Glory forever and ever. Amen.

The effectual call of Grace is precisely similar to the call to Lazarus to come forth; the sinner is dead in sin; he is not only in sin but dead in sin, without any power whatever to give to himself the life of grace. More than that, he is not only dead, but he is corrupt; his lusts, like the worms, have crept into him, a foul stench rises up into the nostrils of justice, God abhors him, and justice cries, "Bury the dead out of my sight, cast it into the fire, let it be consumed." Sovereign Mercy comes, and there lies this unconscious, lifeless mass of sin; Sovereign Grace cries, either by the minister, or else directly without any agency, by the Spirit of God, "come forth!" and that man lives. Does he contribute anything to his new life? Not he—his life is given solely by God. He was dead, absolutely dead, rotten in his sin; the life is given when the call comes, and, in obedience to the call, the sinner comes forth from the grave of his lust, and begins to live a new life, even the life eternal, which Christ gives to His sheep. Charles Spurgeon
